World's Baseball Series Now in the Spotlight

Organizing Circuit For Wrestling Matches

Coleman Included in Group of Cities and Towns to Link Up With Coast Cities Circuit—First "Show" Mon.

Henry (Hank) Rohl of Calgary is lining up a circuit for wrestling matches in which most of the stars of the western states will figure. Included in the circuit it is proposed to organize are Trail, Nelson, Kimberley, Coleman, Lethbridge and Calgary. It is a sub circuit to that of Spokane, Seattle and western cities, and it is planned to give these centres the same talent as seen in the larger places, at two week intervals. The first to be staged here is Monday, Oct 8 in the Community hall.

The wrestlers billed for Monday are Hec Trudeau, contender, of Vancouver against Wildcat Johnson of Dallas, Texas, in an 8 round bout. The latter is light heavyweight champion for Rocky Mountain states. 175 and 180 are the respective weights.

The semi-final of 6 rounds will see Darby Melnick (165) of Detroit, middleweight champ of New England States, against Don Ferguson (168) of Hamilton, 6 rounds. A special preliminary event will be the curtain raiser. Frank Herringham is local manager for the circuit. Posters give complete details.

The promoters, who are staging the bouts in Calgary with marked success, are lining up a complete winter's program in which Canadian and American wrestlers will appear, and the circuit towns will have as good shows as Seattle and Vancouver.

Where'd They All Come From?

The fire bell rang at 2 10 p. m. Saturday. The brigade turned out in less than a minute, and with a procession of cars and trucks following in its wake of dust, escorted in rollicking style to "Paddy" Ryan's house. Here the firemen dismounted with battle axes ready for action, while the hydrant men had already spotted the nearest hydrant to connect up, and the general public were swarming from all points of the compass. Then—with appetites all whetted to see something out of the ordinary, they were greeted with the fact that it was a chimney fire, and the inmates of the house, believing that safety first is a good rule, sent in the alarm. The town, which had appeared to be asleep, was in a hubbub in less time than it takes to tell. People emerged from their retreats, everything was in a state of hustle and bustle, then it died down as quickly as it started.

THE REASON

The reason people pass one door to patronize another store. Is not because the busier place has better silks or gloves or lace. Or cheaper prices, but it lies in pleasant words and smiling eyes. The greatest difference, we believe, is in the treatment folks receive.

Miss May Powell's School Orchestra in Festival

Coleman people note with pride that the school orchestra has been entered by Miss M. Powell, conductress, in the Crow's Nest Pass Musical festival.

To Miss Powell plenty of credit is due for the manner in which she has given of her time and money to conduct this orchestra, and she deserves a "big hand" for her musical work among the young people.

Musical Festival Arrangements Completed by General Committee

Heavy List of Entries Already Received—Cranbrook and Kimberley Orchestras Coming

Kimberley Brass Band sent in a challenge to meet Michel band, winners of last year's musical festival at Blairmore, but it is not yet known if Michel band will accept the challenge, as their band has not been practising for some time. Efforts will be made to get them ready for the festival competition, it is reported.

New Footpath to West Coleman Will Minimize Risks

With the closing of the C. P. R. track to pedestrian traffic between town and West Coleman, sanction was obtained by the council from Supt. Ruthven of Lethbridge to lay out a footpath on the inside of the railway company's fence around the rock bluff, and the portion of the roadway which will be used by pedestrians beyond the C. P. R. right-of-way will be protected by a concrete curb. It will now be possible for people to walk almost from the post-office to West Coleman by the new path, a convenience which will minimize the possibilities of being run down by automobiles.

McGillivray Awarded Contract

The Lake of the Woods Milling Company have recently awarded the contract for their coal requirements to McGillivray Creek. The product known as "Five Roses Flour" has always enjoyed large sales in Coleman by reason of quality: and the award of this contract to a local colliery is just one more reason why "Five Roses" should maintain leadership here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Salvador and Elidio motored to Calgary on Saturday.

A recent wedding was that of Lorenzo Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Richards, and Eileen Cousins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cousins, Rev. A. S. Partington officiated at St. Alban's church. Both young people have lived for many years in Coleman, and embark on married life with the good wishes of a host of friends.

KEEN interest is being taken by Coleman baseball fans in the World's Series, augmented by local pools which are now worth over $50. They favor the Cards to win and their favorite ace, "Dizzy" Dean, gained further favor by pitching an 8-3 victory on Wednesday over Detroit Tigers. Two home runs featured the first game.

DETROIT defeated St. Louis in the second game of the World Series today when they took a twelve inning decision 3-2. The series is now all square.

Additional School Accommodation

The addition of another teacher to the high school staff has necessitated further accommodation for classes, and the United church school room has been transformed into a public school class room for Grade VII, in charge of Miss Ethel Wilson. 42 desks have been installed, blackboards mounted on the walls, and the necessary structural alterations and additions made to conform with school requirements. The property committee of the school board under G. Hope supervised the work. Classes in music are held in the church, public school classes throughout the Pass being taught in turn by Mr. Moffat.

Michel Rector Goes to New Denver

Took Active Part in Boy Scouts of Crow's Nest Pass and Many Improvements Made to Church During His Term

Rev. A. G. McMorine, for five years rector of St. Paul's church, Michel, left on Wednesday for New Denver, B. C., to which place he has been appointed by the Bishop of Kootenay. A complimentary social in his honor was held on Friday evening in the church hall, and on Sunday he held his farewell services. He came to Kootenay diocese from Ontario, and prior to that was in Qu'Appelle diocese, where he was ordained and in the early years of his ministry was in Gainsboro and Carnduff in Southern Saskatchewan. He took an active interest in the Crow's Nest Pass Boy Scouts, being camp-commandant at the first camp at Lee Lake.

He is succeeded by Rev. C. H. Gibbs, who comes from Bernicville. Good wishes follow Mr. McMorine to his new appointment. Last Friday afternoon he called on a few friends in Coleman to bid them farewell.

Local Elks Commenced Winter Activities With Good Turnout

Organized here first in 1925, the Elks went along merrily and raised a considerable sum of money for community purposes. In 1930 with continued inroads of the quiet times, activities ceased, though the lodge had a substantial bank balance, part of which was donated towards the cost of the X-Ray machine in the miners hospital.

Last week the lodge assembled for its first regular meeting since reorganization a couple of weeks ago, and it looks as if the Elks will be heard from quite often during the winter.

The Elks are not a self seeking organization but, as the name implies, a benevolent and protective order. One of their main considerations is the welfare of children and aside from the mass entertainment given them at various times, many cases of individual charity might be cited.

It may be added that, according to Grand Exalted Ruler Spankie, speaking at Grand Lodge at Jasper in July, the Elks is the only fraternal organization that has consistently gained membership and grown continuously stronger right through every year of the depression.

Volunteer Help Builds Parish Hall Kitchen

The ladies wanted a kitchen, but were short of money, though long on optimism. Consequently in order to help their optimism to materialize, four willing men decided to build the kitchen, as an addition to the St. Alban's parish hall. An excavation was dug and the building erected by Walter Williams, William Martland, Robt. Lloyd and Mr. Lleyelwyn, and they are in the process of the ladies for evermore. Michel's shall be a crown of joy

"Fresh from the Gardens"

A New And Better Viewpoint

The recent annual convention of the Canadian Chambers of Commerce held at Winnipeg, was, it is generally recognized, one of the most important and in many respects the most significant gathering yet held by that body. It was not only one of the largest assemblies of outstanding men in the financial, industrial and commercial life of the Dominion yet convened, but it appears to have been animated by a new spirit based upon a fuller recognition of the responsibilities of what has been termed Big Business to the country as a whole and to the masses of producers, workers and consumers who, in the last analysis, are the backbone of the nation.

Important resolutions dealing with matters of far-reaching social and economic questions, and involving vital changes in national policies, were adopted, not the least significant of which was the declaration in favor of the negotiations of a Reciprocity Agreement with the United States in matters of trade. The adoption of this resolution in itself reveals the change in sentiment and viewpoint of the business world of Canada.

Significant, too, were some of the addresses delivered by men occupying high executive positions in the industrial world. For example, Mr. T. A. Russell, president of the Massey-Harris Co., told the convention that "the success of industry and farming were wrapped up together in Canada in a way which nothing could separate," and he gave facts and figures to prove it. As the purchasing power of the farmer declined, said Mr. Russell, so did the demand and output of farm implements. In the case of the Massey-Harris Co., he said, employment dropped from 4,900 in 1929 to an average of less than 1,200 for the years 1931, 1932 and 1933. "Not only has this proved a hardship for the men thrown out of employment through no fault of their own," he said, "but it has tremendously affected their purchasing power, their ability to pay taxes and, generally, to contribute their quota to Canadian prosperity. Likewise, the investor who has had no return on his investment has had to incur the expense of maintaining a poor customer either for the farmer or for the worker." Mr. Russell strongly urged the absolute necessity of complete and generous co-operation with the farming industry in order to bring about its re-establishment and promote its prosperity.

Then, up spoke Mr. W. R. Campbell, president of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada, on behalf of all workers in industry. Space will not admit of any extended quotations from Mr. Campbell's address, but a few will suffice to indicate his position. The attitude he urged all employers of labor to adopt in the interests of the workers, in their own interests, and in the interests of the country at large. Mr. Campbell said:

"As far as Canada is concerned there can be no normal times until all of our people who are capable of working have an opportunity for gainful employment—free and unfettered by government aid. In dealing with the mills which must be corrected it is time that the very grave importance of our human relationship be recognized. I repeat—until every man in this country capable of working is able to find gainful employment the prime responsibility of industry is to the worker. The employer's interest must not be subordinated to the interest of the shareholder.

"Perhaps," continued Mr. Campbell, "these are rather amazing statements, but not until this condition is brought about can either capital and management or the worker prosper. Our primary duty, then, should be to make certain not only that the interest of labor in the benefits of industry be not subordinated to that of capital, but also that labor be granted an equitable share of these benefits."

Suggesting the only possible way in which industry can be re-vitalized and employment provided, Mr. Campbell said: "What we must do is to start the ball rolling upward injecting more money into our economic structure at the bottom, through the wages of these industrial workers and profit by the steadily increasing regulation of this money upward through our whole business fabric. That is good business because it is profitable. Perhaps it means even the salvation of our industry itself as we know it today. Our problem at home, then, becomes one of finding greater markets for the products of domestic manufacture, and this again devolves upon the problem of finding greater employment and providing increased purchasing power for our own workers. By increasing the earnings of the average worker, by paying him a greater return for his labor and by increasing the volume of his employment, by pumping into our economic structure more money at this base, we can get a start toward solution of our problem."

Having made a reference to the further development of export trade, Mr. Campbell concluded: "It is an inescapable fact that we have now entered upon an era of social readjustment in this world. In working out this adjustment so that the rights of both capital and labor shall be properly balanced, it devolves upon capital to take the initiative with the welfare of the whole nation always in mind. Capital must do this, because capital has the imagination, the training and the ability to assume leadership. Until this proper balance is struck and until this country has been able to lift itself by its own courage and its own ability back to normal times, it is imperative that capital defer profits, defer its claim to a return upon invested wealth, in order to provide all of our people able to work with adequate employment at such a return as to enable them to live in accordance with standards commensurate with the calibre of Anglo-Saxon peoples."

Thus we have open confession by two of Canada's great industries that their first responsibility to-day is not to shareholders and bondholders, but to farmers and workers—the real primary producers; that capital must wait for its return; may more, that it must take the leadership in solving the problems of the producers, workers and consumers, in full realization of the fact that industry and until these are solved, there can be no return and no future for industry or the enormous investments that have been made in industry. Such frank abetted recognition of this great truth is, in itself, the first and a long step towards ultimate advancement and success for all.

Stately Wedding

Prince of Wales Expected to Be Best Man at Marriage of Prince George and Princess Marina

The world's best-known bachelor, the Prince of Wales, is expected to be the best man at the stately wedding in Westminster Abbey of Prince George and Princess Marina of Greece. The date was announced as Nov. 20.

Little Princess Elizabeth, niece of George, will be a bridesmaid. The date was chosen after long discussions at Balmoral castle, Scotland, in which the king and queen, Marina's parents, Prince and Princess Nicolas of Greece, the Archbishop of Canterbury and the betrothed couple themselves participated.

It was expected the service would be performed by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York. The great ceremony in the abbey will be followed by a short service according to the rites of the Greek Orthodox church, in a room in Buckingham palace.

Their Majesties will drive to the abbey in full state. Prince George will drive separately with the Prince of Wales, while Marina will be in a third procession with her parents.

LOST 10 LBS. IN TWO MONTHS

Not too Old to Reduce at 50

Here is a letter which proves that there is no necessity to tolerate excessive fatness, even at the age of 50—

"I was becoming too fat after reaching 50, and had attacks of rheumatism and indigestion. I took ordinary salts and other medicines, but they did not do any permanent good. Then I commenced taking Kruschen. I soon began to feel different—brighter, stronger, had more energy, no rheumatism, and to my surprise, after two months I lost 10 lbs. in weight, although I was eating much more, as digestion fullness nearly left me."—W. H. G.

The numerous vital salts in Kruschen stimulate and tune up the bodily functions from a number of different angles. Your stomach, liver, and kidneys all feel the immediate benefit. Your blood is cleansed of impurities and becomes invigorated and refreshed. You forget indigestion, rheumatism, and depression in a new and unaccustomed feeling of physical and mental exhilaration.

Lord Tomlin said that Vancouver, with its marvelous harbor and a network of railways behind it should be vastly interested in the solution of the world depression. Because, he said, Vancouver should logically hold Asia commercially in fee.

Try To Germinate Seeds 2,500 Years Old

The question of whether wheat reputedly 2,500 years old will sprout was before scientists of the agriculture ministry, and Oxford and Cambridge Universities recently. The wheat seed was found in a tomb of an Egyptian king at ancient Thebes. Experts are attempting to produce germination by natural means, failing which they intended to try artificial methods.

System Not Sound

The Dominion department of agriculture announces that experiments have shown that the practice of topping turnips some weeks before the date of harvesting is not sound. Data obtained shows that the turnips from the untopped crops had the higher food value. The topped crop failed to grow after topping and gave a lower yield per acre of nutriments.

WHAT DOES YOUR HANDWRITING REVEAL?

By LAWRENCE HIBBERT (Grapho-Analyst)
(All Rights Reserved)

(Editor's Note: The response to the author's invitation to readers to send in a specimen of their handwriting for a personal reading has been enormous. Readers are referred to the announcement at the foot of this article.)

"How can Grapho-Analysis help me?"—that is the question that readers invariably ask when they read my articles on the subject of character analysis from handwriting. And it is a natural question. For in these days, perhaps more than any others, the struggle for existence, for progress is individualistic. I will endeavour to answer the question by first asking others.

Are you happy?—or are you continually frowning at life, with a constant chip on your shoulder? Are you progressing in your work?—or are you dissatisfied; a square peg in a round hole; unable to make any real progress, yet not knowing what to do to change the possibilities of your future?

Are you married, are you contented?—or is a disquiet creeping in, with perpetual bickering between yourself and your life partner? Do you make friends, and keep them?—or are you living the life of an involuntary recluse, unable to enjoy the society and companionship of real friends?

The answers to all these questions can be summed up in a phrase—Know yourself, and others. Or, one word will suffice—Understanding. If you are not understanding yourself, and understanding yourself—your faults and your virtues; your merits and your weaknesses—you will be seriously handicapped.

Life's prizes go to those who, knowing their potentials, capitalize them and strengthen them, who, realizing their faults, strive to overcome them. Grapho-Analysis helps you to know yourself, and thus enables you to make the most of your capabilities, to know your own weaknesses, gives you an opportunity to eradicate them.

Handwriting is not merely a matter of putting pen to paper. You have to use your brain in order to write. And the brain is the captain of your body. Everything you do emanates first of all from your brain. Handwriting is only the physical expression of the instructions coming from your brain.

And everything you are and can be is summed up in your handwriting, as diagnosed by an expert grapho-analyst. I have space for only a few very brief extracts from character readings. E.M.—You are likely to be impulsive. You do not consider very long before acting. There is a slight strain in your handwriting, showing you not let it grow. Your writing shows a distinct cultural trait; you have a definite knowledge of things and a desire to find out for yourself.

Miss M.—You have a great pride in your appearance, a relative memory and are very careful about details. You have a considerable regard for your own importance, and are prone to regard yourself as full of originality and individuality. But I am afraid that this is more pretension than actual, and is not entirely sincere. I suggest that you try to be more your natural self; your friends will like you all the more.

Do you want a personal reading of your own writing? Do you wish to know what your friends are really like? Send a letter in your normal writing, state birthdate (in each case), and enclose 10c coin and 3c stamped addressed envelope. If you send more than one specimen for analysis, please enclose one each. Replies will be mailed as quickly as possible, but please allow at least two weeks for reply. Address: Lawrence Hibbert, Grapho-Analyst, c/o Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Must Be Registered

After January 1, 1935, any person found to be in possession of a pistol or revolver when its ownership has not been recorded with the police authorities will be liable to a fine of $50 or 30 days in jail, or both. This amendment to the Criminal Code was passed at the last session of parliament and it is being proclaimed in the Canada Gazette.

The Motor Horn

Suppression Of Noise In England During Hours of Night

The city of London, has tried an experiment in the suppression of noise with such success that the London rule is being extended to cover the whole of England. In London for some weeks past it has been an offence, punishable by fine, to sound a motor horn between 11:30 at night and seven o'clock in the morning. The celebrated English respect for law has again been in evidence. Motorists have agreed that a nightly closed season on honking is a good idea and have refrained from sounding klaxons and hooters in the prohibited hours. A blessed quietude has resulted. People have been surprised to find out how large an ingredient in London's night noises the motor horn was.

But a curious, incidental and unexpected result of the regulation is that London at night is safer now than it was. A motorist who knows that he may not, under penalty of fine, warn the approaching pedestrian with a blast of sound is a more careful driver than he otherwise would be. The discovery of this fact suggests some reflections on the motor horn. Few would propose its abolition. A motor car without sounding apparatus in good order cannot pass the safety tests. On the other hand, there are certainly too many motorists who think that the possession of an efficient hooter gives them a license to take risks and scare pedestrians out of their wits. If drivers used their horns in emergency only and not as a routine method of clearing the streets, it is probable the streets would be safer.

They would be quieter too, of course. But the horn-blower who is the worst disturber of the peace is not the man who makes pedestrians jump. He is the young person who summons a friend by prolonged hooting and at the same time provides an outlet for surplus Western cattle. The suppression of this nuisance daily from midnight to midnight would be welcome.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Another Wheat Exporter

Report That France Has Joined The Ranks Of Exporters

The press report that France has left the ranks of wheat importing countries to join those of exporters is of considerable importance to Canada, in that still another competitor is added to the list. Prior to 1929, France did not produce sufficient wheat to meet her domestic requirements, except in years when exceptionally large crops were harvested. Large crops were grown in that country in 1929, 1932, and again in 1933, so that a surplus of wheat has been built up. In pre-war years France produced very large crops. The 1890 crop amounted to 350 million bushels, or equivalent to the production of 1932. In the five-year period from 1909 to 1913, production averaged 317 million bushels per annum. From 1923 to 1932 it was 290 million bushels or about 27 million bushels under the pre-war average. France has not reached her pre-war average of wheat which amounted to 16.5 million acres. The 1933 acreage was 13,358,000 and it has not changed materially since 1920.

Policy To Be Continued

Renewal Of Stock Feeder System Has Been Announced

Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion minister of agriculture, has announced the renewal of the feeder purchase policy, which was in effect from 1924 to 1932. Under this policy the Dominion department of agriculture will pay one-way railway fare and reasonable travelling expenses to purchase feeder cattle to return to their farms for feeding.

The object of this policy is to enable those farmers who have a surplus of feed to use it to advantage and at the same time provide an outlet for surplus Western cattle.

May Ask Investigation Into Operations Of The Winnipeg Grain Exchange

Winnipeg.—John I. McFarland, general manager of the Central Selling Agency of the Canadian Wheat Pools, disclosed he contemplated requesting federal authorities to investigate recent operations on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Questioned about rumors he would seek an investigation into selling operations, Mr. McFarland stated definitely it was his intention to place the matter before proper authorities at Ottawa for their consideration.

Reports the investigation was being contemplated were made in a special dispatch to the Winnipeg Free Press from Ottawa. The dispatch, in part, said:

"An investigation into selling of wheat futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange in recent weeks is being probable in well-informed circles here. It is currently rumored that John I. McFarland, general manager, Canadian Wheat Pools, through whom government wheat operations have been conducted since 1930, is asking for a probe into the nature of selling operations on the Winnipeg exchange, which, it is understood, have greatly exceeded in volume the amount of legitimate hedging necessary to cover the small movement of wheat from farms the past two or three weeks."

"Statistics show that since the middle of September, at which date farmers had delivered about 74,000,000 bushels of wheat, receipts in the country have totalled less than 16,000,000 bushels. Wet weather halted harvesting operations and the movement of threshed grain to market. Daily deliveries from farms declined from about 3,500,000 bushels to less than 1,000,000 bushels a day."

"Smaller hedging sales should have recomputed this falling off in country movement, but it is reported that the sales of wheat futures at Winnipeg have been three to four times the amount warranted by farm deliveries. This is said to be the basis of the request for an investigation."

"Overcautious interests are suspected of these selling operations, and there is even a suggestion of 'skull-duggery' on the part of powerful interests who hope by their tactics to crash the price structure at Winnipeg where some resistance to the weakness in other markets has been shown."

Premier Bennett Delivers Earnest Plea For Peace Of World

Paris.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, speaking at a banquet in his honor at the Inter-Allied Club here, made an impassioned plea for international peace and friendliness.

"When Canadians traversed the seas to maintain peace," he told the 150 diplomats and prominent Frenchmen gathered at the banquet, "they believed it would come again."

"Canadians know how earnestly France has striven for peace," he said. "In these days of rapid communications, the repercussions of what takes place in France to-day are felt in Canada tomorrow."

Pierre-Elie Flandin, minister of public works in the Doumergue cabinet, proposed the Canadian premier's health and acknowledged Canada's

Kidnapping Menace

Hon. Arthur Roebuck Addresses Conference In New York

New York.—Hon. Arthur Roebuck, attorney-general for Ontario, laid before law enforcement and crime prevention authorities of the United States, a plan designed to eradicate the growing menace of kidnapping for ransom.

The law's reply to challenges from kidnappers, he declared, should be "certainty of apprehension, and make the business unprofitable." This would be accomplished by making it illegal to pay a ransom and by withholding all police authorities into a mobile unit which could be stretched out in any direction at sudden notice.

Mr. Roebuck, speaking at the New York Herald-Tribune conference on current problems of 1934, emphasized his opposition to what he called centralization of police authority and the reorganization of our civil officials on the basis of a standing army. But what he thought was required was "generalship; and generalship necessitates unified control."

There was no need for centralized management of all our forces, he said, but only centralized command all resources in the hands of a unified criminal investigation department."

He told of his plans to submit at the next session of the Ontario legislative assembly a bill designed to widen authority of this branch of the Ontario Provincial Police.

He also told of his preparations to submit to the legislature a proposal which would "entrust the executive with power to supervise the bank accounts and other resources of relatives, friends and other persons while they are subject to the pressure of such illegal demands, and by so doing thus forcibly prevent payment of ransom."

Mr. Roebuck agreed such measures might prove hardship to relatives of a kidnapped victim but he expressed the conviction that if plotters knew in advance a ransom could not be paid and such payment would be prevented by law authorities, "the relative would not have been kidnapped. It is not new that the state should ask individuals to bear hardship for the common good."

Handle Poultry And Eggs

Marketing Plan To Regulate Sale May Be Considered

Ottawa.—Submitted by Western livestock and poultry interests, the Dominion marketing board has under consideration a marketing scheme to regulate the sale of poultry and eggs from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. A possibility exists the scheme for poultry may be adopted in time to handle the marketing.

Another scheme emanating from the west also is before the board. Both schemes were presented by R. P. Roblin, president of the Saskatchewan Livestock Producers' Co-operative Association; G. H. Barr, Regina lawyer, and W. A. Landreth, Winnipeg, of the Canadian Poultry Pro-

League Protest

Warsaw.—The national minority committee of White Russians lodged a protest with the League of Nations assembly against the Soviet entry into the league, the government newspaper Kuryet Proanny reported.

hospitality at her recent Jacques Cartier quatercentenary celebration. Flandin headed the French delegation to the celebration.

Introduced by Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian minister in Paris, the premier took occasion to make smiling reference to politics at home.

He said he hoped the guests would not consider him too great a man "as the by-election at home indicate I am not."

"Naturally when a government has not yielded to inflation it does not receive the plaudits of the people," the premier said. "But there are signs of improvement now."

"Owing to the gold mines and productivity of land and forests the Canadian dollar is worth more than the American one."

Aftermath Of Yacht Race

Will Not Enter Another Challenge, Says Sopwith

Newport, R.I.—Endeavour, the trim sloop which completed an unsuccessful but impressive bid against Rainbow for the America's cup, is not for sale.

Her owner, T. O. M. Sopwith, said emphatically, "I am not selling Endeavour," when he was advised of reports that a movement was afoot in Nova Scotia for a group of Canadian yachting enthusiasts to purchase the blue-bolt yacht and challenge the United States for the America's cup. Sopwith said there was no reason why he should sell the craft.

"She is going back to England inside of a fortnight," he added. "I'm going to race her next summer in England."

White Sopwith has flatly said he will never challenge again, there were many here who held to the opinion a challenge would be forthcoming nevertheless.

The 1934 races, most turbulent in the history of the cup, continued to be the chief topic of conversation in yachting circles and there was an amazing agreement of opinion. The most salient points on which there was more or less accord was that Endeavour was a faster boat than the Rainbow and that superior seamanship was the factor that enabled the United States boat to overtake and vanquish the Endeavour.

Those who argued Britain would again challenge for the cup held that Britons must have been encouraged by the fine showing of the Sopwith yacht.

Members of the Rainbow camp did not hesitate to admit they were extremely lucky in edging out the big blue invader.

Leaps To Death

Convicted On Drug Charges, Takes Law Into His Own Hands

Montreal.—Convicted a short while before as the head of a vast international drug ring and scheduled for sentence in about a fortnight, Pinous Brecher, wealthy New Yorker, took the law into his own hands. He leaped to his death from an uncovered passageway connecting the main cell block of the Montreal jail with the infirmary, to the cement court below.

Escorted from the court house to the jail in a private automobile, Brecher feigned a sudden illness and asked to be taken to the infirmary. Displaying an unbelievable strength for one of his slight build, Brecher wrenched himself free from the guard, pushed him aside and vaulted head first over the railing of the passageway. Jail doctor pronounced him dead from a fractured skull five minutes later.

Regina Pioneer Dead

Dr. W. D. Cowan Was Member For Long Lake In Federal House

Regina.—Dr. W. D. Cowan, pioneer resident of this city, is dead at age of 69.

Resident of Regina for nearly 40 years, Dr. Cowan served as town councillor, city alderman and mayor. He was prominent in Conservative political circles and was first elected to the House of Commons in 1917 for the Regina constituency. In 1930 he was elected for Long Lake.

Wants To Keep Control

British Columbia Reluctant To Surrender New Wage Law

Victoria.—With what he considers higher wage standards and labor conditions in effect in British Columbia than in other parts of Canada, the province would be reluctant to surrender control over its minimum wage and labor regulations to the Dominion authority, Hon. G. S. Pearson, minister of labor, stated.

According to the estimate of Premier T. D. Pattullo, payrolls in British Columbia have been increased $500,000 monthly by minimum wage scales put into effect in the province during the present year.

Mr. Pearson was speaking of the report that the Dominion might propose taking over control of wage scales, at the coming Dominion-provincial conference. The minister is in agreement with the idea of having wage legislation adopted throughout Canada but is opposed to the Dominion setting scales for this province. British Columbia is willing to discuss the matter of wages for the whole of Canada lower than those it feels are right, stated the minister.

Win Balloon Race

Believe Poland Has Swept Honors In Competition

Warsaw.—Poland, playing host to the 22nd annual Gordon Bennett balloon race, apparently had swept honors in that competition. Official results will be delayed several days, it was announced, pending the arrival of the balloonists' landing books.

It was believed the Polish "Barszan" (Warsaw), crewed by Z. Burzynski and J. Zakrzewski, which landed near Riazan, Russia, was the winner, having covered approximately 750 miles.

The "Kosciuszko," piloted by Captain Franciszek Hyniec, which landed near Voronezh, Russia, was believed to have taken second place. The third Polish balloon, the "Polonia," burst and fell into a lake some 200 miles north of Helsinki, Finland. Its chances for third place were believed good.

All 16 that took flight have been reported safe.

Move To Obtain A Water Conservation Plan To Fight Prairie Drouth

Two-Board Command

New Administration For The N.R.A. Is Announced

Washington.—A two-board command was placed by President Roosevelt over the N.R.A. that Hugh S. Johnson once, dominated single-handedly.

One committee of six administrative officials was selected to act under the direction of Donald R. Richberg in performing the vital task of framing future policies of the government's relation to business.

A second, composed of two industrialists, two labor experts and a college professor, was named "to administer, under my direction," the industrial recovery law.

The White House announcement revolutionizing the N.R.A. of fiery Johnson days was made in two executive orders. One created the "national industrial recovery board," the administrative agency of the future.

The other order revamped the already existing industrial emergency committee to include Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, Secretary of Labor Francis Perkins, Chester Davis, agricultural adjustment administrator; the chairman to be selected by the new national industrial recovery board; Harry Hopkins, relief administrator, and Richberg.

Bay Route For Livestock

Manitoba Government To Make Inland Study Of Question

Winnipeg.—Premier John Bracken announced completion of plans by the Manitoba government for an intensive study of conditions affecting the shipment of cattle through Churchill and problems concerning foreign markets.

Hon. D. G. McKenzie, minister of agriculture, will accompany a shipment of livestock leaving the northern seaport on the steamship Brandon, this week. He will observe conditions under which cattle are handled by the new national industrial recovery board, under transport to Great Britain and the various costs.

Mr. McKenzie will also study the demand for livestock products on the British market, the relative quality of imports from other parts of the empire and foreign countries and the nature of competition faced by Canadian producers.

Trapper Found Dead

Distress Flag On Island Failed To Attract Attention

Vancouver.—A white distress flag hanging from the front door of his lonely cabin at the south end of Cortez Island, failed to attract aid from George Reanson, aged 55. When Warden Roy E. Allen, of Powell River, B.C., visited Reanson's cabin on September 21, he saw the signal on the door and found the owner lying face down on the floor. He had been dead more than a month from natural causes.

Winnipeg.—The Manitoba government will move to obtain the co-operation of Saskatchewan, Alberta and the federal governments in a water conservation scheme to fight drouth on the prairies, it was announced by Premier John Bracken of Manitoba.

Addressing the annual convention of the Manitoba section of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, Premier Bracken declared one province could not act alone nor could they act without aid from the federal government.

The financial undertaking would be great and the problem should be considered national, he declared.

Instead of letting water run off quickly in the spring, a scheme had to be devised for saving it for the soil at critical periods in the growing season, he said. Water in streams also had to be conserved. There had to be reclamation of areas by growing trees, with forest reserves at strategic points.

Persistence of the drouth over a long period and its extension over such a wide area, together with the tremendous losses involved, made it a matter of gravest concern, he concluded.

The premier's plan involved three objectives—water conservation, land reclamation and farm rehabilitation. There was no doubt, he said, but farming methods in some instances had aggravated the drouth condition. These would have to be altered.

Boy Scout Campaign

Plea Is Made By Lord Bessborough For Increased Membership

Ottawa.—An earnest appeal for a campaign having for its object an increase in the number of Canadian Boy Scouts from 65,000 to 100,000 was made by Lord Bessborough, governor-general, here. Addressing the commissioners and provincial presidents of the Boy Scouts' Association at their banquet, Lord Bessborough, recalling that next year Canada would be visited by Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the movement, urged his hearers to welcome him with a membership vastly increased over its present numbers.

Hon. H. H. Stevens paid tribute to the splendid character of the men associated with scouting.

S. J. Latta of Saskatchewan was presented by His Excellency with the badge of the Silver Wolf during the evening.

Col. J. H. Woods, provincial president, Calgary, assured the governor-general his wishes for an increased membership in the Boy Scout movement would be accomplished.

Held Conference Over Radio

London.—Over a world-wide wireless telephone network the Sydney, Johannesburg, Bombay, New York and London branches of a well known British engineering firm were linked up last week for purposes of a conference. The voices came over distinctly and the conference was voted a success.

Proposals To Be Made For Amendments To The B. N. A. Act

Ottawa.—The British North America Act, that aged document which at once binds together the provinces of Canada in one vast national unit, yet stands as a bulwark of protection of peculiar provincial rights, will be the bone of contention at a momentous conference in Ottawa, probably in November.

While the date of the conference is no nearer fixed than when Prime Minister R. B. Bennett sent out the call to the provincial premiers the first of this month, most of the provinces have signified their willingness to attend. Their comments or suggestions on the proposed amendments to the constitution have yet to be made but will probably be ready by the end of the month.

It is proposed to have the provinces give up to the federal government control the exclusive jurisdiction with respect to such social matters as unemployment insurance, hours of labor and minimum wages, certain forms of taxation, company laws and possibly trade regulations involving private property.

The British North America Act which brought the first three provinces into one Canadian confederation in 1867, made no provision for possible amendment. There have been amendments and the general practice has been to secure them by joint resolution of the senate and house of commons addressed to the Imperial parliament in London. On occasions they have been secured on the sole representations of the prime minister but that was many years ago.

It will be the objective of the forthcoming conference to secure approval of certain proposed amendments and also to secure, by concerted action of the provinces and the Dominion, approval by the British parliament of a purely Canadian method of amending the constitution.

If the latter objective is achieved it will then be possible for the Canadian people, as represented by their members in parliament, to make whatever amendments circumstances dictate without further reference to London.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

SPORT is in the air. Baseball superseded the America's Cup races. Participants in sweepstakes enjoy a few minutes thrill as the scores correspond to the tickets they hold, but as there is only one winning ticket in thousands, smiles turn to mild disappointment, yet keen interest remains among the followers of North America's national game.

A TONIC to the humdrum of routine is human interest in healthy sport. The Englishman looks upon the inter-variety boat race and the Derby as two great events of the year. In Canada and the States the World Series in baseball and the national league hockey championship fill a similar place. Scotland with England views the final cup tie in football with as much import as New Year's Eve.

IT'S a mighty good thing that thoughts are pleasantly diverted in the realms of sport. A famous general once said the battle of Waterloo was won on the cricket fields of Eton. Participation in sport provides an outlet for human energy which repressed might be turned into harmful channels.

SPORT fans who like ring action will have an opportunity to gratify their desires, with an attempt being made to include Coleman in a circuit linked with larger centres. Some glory in seeing a couple of bone crushers do their darndest to "squeeze the daylight" out of each other, thereby giving vent to their primal instinct, which comes to the surface in many ways. Even men of gentle habit show their primal savage nature when they go forth armed with a gun to kill birds on the wing. Nature re-asserts its savage instinct in various ways. The point is that everyone has it in him, much as he may decry it in others. We're all living in glass houses.

SECRETARY Chappell of the school trustees association states that the cost per pupil per month for musical instruction is less than 15c. By co-operation of school trustees of the district, instruction is obtained at low cost. Time will prove its benefits among the children.

DESPITE vigilance, newspapers occasionally make mistakes of which the whole wide world takes notice. In other businesses they are usually covered up.

IT was anticipated that a one-third reduction of light rates would result in more illumination of the down-town area, but darkness is still visible, lightened only by the few street standards which really do not dazzle anyone's eyes.

THEN AND NOW

FIFTEEN years ago Canada was engaged in floating one of the most successful of its war loans. National enthusiasm was at its highest pitch. Business was booming and money was plentiful. Results exceeded the fondest hopes, nearly 800,000 citizens subscribing for the 1919 Victory Loan Bonds. True, the income yield of 5 1/2 per cent was very attractive, but opinion then was, that people subscribed more from their whole-hearted desire to assist national reconstruction rather than because of the attractive interest rate.

Holders of these 1919 Victory Bonds, which will mature November 1, are now being asked to convert them into bonds of the 1934 Refunding Loan. That the majority of holders of 1919 Victory Bonds will avail themselves of this privilege there can be no doubt. They know what a safe and profitable investment they have had and will surely wish to continue it. The record of Dominion of Canada Bonds during the past few years when investors have suffered loss of capital and distress of mind, demonstrates conclusively that there is no safer investment than Dominion of Canada Bonds. Security of principal is paramount in any investment. Consequently, when the unassailable security of Dominion of Canada Bonds is coupled with so desirable an income yield as is offered by the new bonds, the response from those having bonds to convert as well as applications from new investors should be both prompt and enthusiastic.

Commences Third Year in Coleman Next Sunday

UNITED CHURCH

On Sunday next Rev. Roy Taylor begins his third year at St. Paul's church. The messages will be in keeping with national Thanksgiving. This is the occasion when all should give thanks and return to Him who has abundantly blessed us an offering to carry on His great enterprise of redemption. Letters have been sent out and the Board of Managers will appreciate whatever you can give.

The Sacrament will be administered in the morning. The Sunday school meets at 12.15 a.m. and children not attending other schools will be welcomed.

Rally Day service last Sunday was joined in by the Sunday school and congregation. Dorothea Hall led the older girls in an inspiring pageant entitled "Sunday Schools of Other Lands." Miss Megan Jones led the service and Jim Allan, jr. read an address on "Century and a Half of the Sunday School Movement." Lorraine Rippon presided at the organ. The pastor gave a short talk entitled "Two Steps Forward." All who took part and those who trained them are to be commended. An offering for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund was taken.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

J. Kinnear Jr. of Midnapore is visiting his parents in town this week.

Mike Korman returned to Coleman on Wednesday after spending several weeks at Forest Lawn, Alta.

Charles Nicholas was a business visitor to Calgary and Lethbridge during the week.

Mr. Henry James, who left Coleman in 1918 after many years residence, is here on a visit at his son's home on his return from a visit to his old home in Tredgar, Wales. Since leaving Coleman he has lived at Victoria, B.C. He is renewing acquaintance with many old friends throughout the Pass, as he became well known as superintendent of the mine rescue car during the latter years of his residence here. He first settled in Coleman here in 1907, and his son is a fire boss at McGillivray mine.

Elideo Salvador was the guest of honor at a farewell party in the new Italian hall last Thursday night, about 75 couples being present. Most of the evening was spent in dancing, the Bandits orchestra being in attendance. Lunch was served at midnight, after which tap dancing by George Peer of Blairmore, and a song by W. Lewis, were items of the program. The party came to a close about 2 a.m. with the singing of Auld Lang Syne, and best wishes were extended to Elideo who left Saturday for Calgary, where he will take a course in electrical engineering at the Technical Institute.

They Don't Give a Hoot

Within five miles of Charing Cross in London, England, motorists no longer sound the "hooter" between the hours of 11.30 p.m. and 7 a.m. If they are wise, they drive carefully and avoid using the horn, because the Ministry of Transport has so decreed, and the order will be rigidly enforced after night drivers have had an opportunity to get used to it. The experiment in Canada is interesting in Canada, especially in urban centres where sleep is often disturbed by callous use of klaxons. Honking—or hooting as they call it in the Old Country—is a nuisance which varies in different centres. Cities in Quebec are observed to suffer more than cities in Ontario. No matter where the nuisance exists, it is capable of regulation because the horn is no substitute for careful driving. Too often it is used by a motorist to express other thoughts than that of merely warning a pedestrian or other car.

Little Journeys In Science

CARBON MONOXIDE

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Frequently we read of accidents caused by the escape of carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust of motor engines or from furnace pipes. Produced by the burning of carbon, in coal gas, and in motor exhausts, this gas, which is also known as carbonic oxide, is very poisonous, and is doubly dangerous because it has almost no odor, and overcomes victims so quickly that they rarely have time to escape from the fumes.

The deadliness of the gas lies in its action on the blood, where it displaces the oxygen in the haemoglobin, through which it reaches the body tissues. It is identified in the body because of the bright red color which it gives to the blood.

It is estimated that one volume of carbon monoxide in eight hundred volumes of air is fatal when breathed for half an hour, while much smaller quantities are known to produce unpleasant effects if inhaled for any length of time. Small cars travelling at fifteen miles per hour are said to give off forty-one cubic feet of carbon monoxide per hour, while a large car gives off one hundred and eighty-four cubic feet of the gas in one hour. Thus, in large cities where there are many such cars, the atmosphere continually contains small amounts of the gas, and considerable attention has been given in some centres to purifying the air, particularly in tunnels and underground railways. This is done by passing the air over a substance known as hypodermic, which changes carbon monoxide into harmless carbon dioxide.

Mice and birds are particularly sensitive to carbon monoxide and sometimes rescue crews in mines take canaries in cages with them into the mines following an explosion in which this gas is believed to have been released.

Russia A Powerful Factor

Much Safer To Have Nation Member Of League

Russia has been admitted to the League of Nations. Any other outcome would have been inadvisable, granted Russia's willingness to come in.

The League of Nations is an agency—faulty, perhaps, but the most effective in existence to-day—for the preservation of peace in the world. Whoever we may think of the Soviet theories of government, and their practice, the fact remains that Russia is one of the great nations, her policies and ambitions a powerful factor in world affairs. Obviously, therefore, it is much safer to have Russia in the inside with Britain and France and all those associated with them, than on the outside with Germany and Japan and the United States as critical observers.

Those who would have excluded Russia from this free assembly of the nations think of the League as a sort of secret society for a few of the elect. That view is utterly and fantastically absurd. If Russia is a menace to world peace through her plan of government, there is all the more reason for subjecting her to the presumably pacifying influences of League membership.—Ottawa Journal.

Would Segregate All

Young Law Offenders

Church of England Synod Urges Action By Parliament
Canada should segregate her youthful criminal offenders during both trial and prison terms, the synod of the Church of England decided.

On motion of Magistrate J. E. Jones, Toronto, a resolution was passed urging the parliament of Canada to provide separate trials for boys between 16 and 21 years of age and separate penal institutions, similar to the Borstal system in England, where possible.

Most Rev. J. C. Roper, archbishop of Ottawa, seconded the resolution and undertook to bring the matter before the government.

Up to the age of 16, Magistrate Jones explained, the juvenile courts were available, but between that age and 21 there was no special provision. He pointed out the dangers to young offenders of contamination with older and more hardened criminals.

The synod also approved another resolution by Mr. Jones, urging provincial governments to implement Dominion government legislation respecting probation where it had not already been done.

It was certainly the younger offenders to whom attention should be directed, said Rt. Rev. A. Sovereign, bishop of Athabasca. "There are few grey-haired men in our penitentiaries now," he declared. "They are boys, many of them about 18 years old."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OCTOBER 7

FELLOWSHIP WITH CHRIST

Golden Text: Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine: so neither can ye, except ye abide in me. John 15:4.

Lesson: John 15.

Devotional Reading: Matthew 4: 18-25.

Explanations And Comments

Fellowship with Christ and Fruitage, verses 4:11. "Abide in me and I in you." Abide means abide in Christ. You can bear fruit only by abiding in me: In and through you I will live henceforth, is Jesus' promise. How can one abide in Christ; amid the duties and pleasures of life, can one keep one's mind always fixed upon him? You are in a life until you step out of it, though you may not be thinking of the life. You keep on a road until you take a turning right or left, although, engrossed in converse with your friend, you do not think of the road. You are in Christ amid the pressure of daily care, and the haste of business, as long as your face is toward the Lord, your attitude that of humble submission, and your conscience void of offense." (F. B. Meyer).

"Apart from me ye can do nothing."

One who abides not in Christ is cast forth as a useless branch, and in the vineyards such cast-off branches are gathered and burned. "The thought is not to be as pressed as raise the question of the loss of souls who are once united with Christ, and are thereafter only more service rather than salvation. The words, however, are not without serious implications as to the absolute necessity of a real and continuous union with Christ." (Charles R. Erdman).

"He is my Father glorified, that ye have much fruit." To "glorify God" means to recognize and acknowledge his true character. The Father is the Husbandman: much fruit testifies to his skill and care. "And so shall ye by discipleship." "Abide in my love: even as the Father hath loved me, I have loved you." And then Jesus reminded them in his commandments that they could do so, and further encouraged them in obedience by adding that he had remained in his Father's love by keeping his Father's commandments.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

CHOCOLATE NUT CAKE

½ cup butter or butter substitute
¾ cups sugar
4 eggs

1 cup mashed potatoes
2 squares chocolate
2 cups flour

3½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon mace

½ teaspoon grated nutmeg
½ teaspoon ground cloves
1 cup chopped Brazil nuts
½ cup milk

Cream the butter or butter substitute and one cup of sugar. In another bowl, beat the egg-yolks with the remaining cup of sugar. Combine the two mixtures. Have ready the hot mashed potatoes, which should be without lumps, add to them the melted chocolate and combine with the first mixture. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add the nut meats.

Add to the cake mixture, alternating with the milk. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Bake in a loaf pan in a moderate oven. When cool, cover with marshmallow frosting or boiled frosting. This is a large moist cake, which will keep well.

ORANGE MILK FOAM
(Serves 1)

6 tablespoons orange juice
6 tablespoons evaporated milk
6 tablespoons cold water

1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Beat or shake thoroughly. Serve at once in a large glass, chilling with ice if desired. Fresh milk may be used in place of evaporated milk.

This is an excellent mid-meal drink for children who are undernourished. It is also a good beverage accompaniment for meals. Evaporated milk makes the drink very economical.

Decline Of Manners

Impoliteness And Rudeness Considered Smart By Some People

The decline of manners has become clearly marked during the past few years and is by no means confined to the one sex. Ordinary politeness and civility have departed from the masses and their exercise is, apparently, something to be forgotten rather than promoted. It is now regarded in many quarters as the smart thing to be impolite and rude, and the influence of the home and the school, which has fallen down in so many other things, is equally negligible in this regard.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

THE TENDERFOOT

By
GEORGE R. BODNEYAuthor of "The Coronado Trail",
"The Canyon Trail", etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Keene decided to go see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Hour-Glass Ranch, but as Duro Stone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward wildcat outfit.

(Now Go On With The Story)

"Listen to old Dad, but you'll be growled. His talk is sure potent." Fragments of that talk came to the end of the hot wind from the desert. Under that word-lash the burros frankly trotted. Dustin halted him from cupped hands: "Shammy-skin! ... Dad ... Kane ... I come on over to the house."

Kane stared at them from rheumy eyes white with crustal alkali and came slowly across to them, wiping his lips on the back of a dirty, hairy hand.

"Wait till I strip the packs. Them asses'll sure roll on 'em if I wait." He followed the patient burros to the corral where they surged at the full water-trough and his voice shrilled out in profane appeals.

"Hi, you Baptist! Out to hell out there! ... A chunk of rock as big as an orange smote the reluctant Baptist behind the ear and brought him to order. "Presbyterian! Where the hell d'ye think you're going? Episcopalian!"

In five minutes he had his packs stripped and lined up and came up the steps wiping his face on his sleeve.

"Them damn asses," he growled, "are more trouble 'n thoroughbred. I got to chuck 'em with rocks on the trail to git two miles a day outen 'em. In cramp, the minute I take off the packs they wander off. They'll stray twenty mile by sun-up. I been prospectin' out here more'n thirty years," he complained. "Ask I was to God more'n nineteen years was spent trackin' loose burros. What you want with me?"

"Come inside," said Dustin. "Nice names you got for 'em."

"Oh. You mean them asses. They've earned 'em. Now you take that ass Baptist. He'll run belly-deep into the fuddle he finds an' all hell can't git him out! Presbyterian! pluck the nuchal trail he kin find and shoulder the other asses into it. No matter where it takes 'em as long as they take his trail. ..."

He stopped talking as Dustin came back with a bottle and glasses and his shrewd eyes watched the ranchman pouring. Kane was a "decent rail" but he was no fool. He was fairly sure that Sam Dustin was never civil without just cause. He drained the tumbler at a gulp.

"You'll be damned glad you had the guts to grubstake me this time, Dustin," he said. "I got news for you."

It was the first time in his life that he had ever called Dustin by his last name without any prefix and both partners sensed that it had its meaning. They both eyed Kane. Could the old fool be drunk on just one hastily swallowed drink? It was no likely. They could not know that the old prospector, who had spent a lifetime trailing will-o'-the-wisps across a continent, was intoxicated with the headiest wine in the world.

Success! He thrust a manicured hand into his tattered shirt and fumbled there.

"Scratchin' yourself or what?" asked Goddard.

"Mostly 'what,'" said Kane grimly. "You two listen to me. ... His voice rose shrilly as men do who would force belief.

"For more'n a lifetime I been trackin' an' trailin' across them ranges. ... His knotted finger shot out toward the distant ranges of the West. "I've done scratched gravel from Alaska to Tehuantepec. There ain't a county between hell an' high water that I ain't sweated n' tied. I've eat more desert dust'n the Lord used in creatin' man. ..."

"Come to the point," said Dustin shortly. "Spoke here says I've been a fool ever to have grubstaked you. What's blinin' you? What've you got this time? Need more of a grubstake to tide you over till the Christmas time?"

"VIII you stand another stake if I need it?" demanded Kane. He felt he knew both men and he knew well that his few finds had not paid his grubstake bills. He did not really like a single bone in Sam Dustin's big body but after all ... Dustin had staked him when no one else would.

"You mean you'll stand another stake if I need it?" he asked. Both men eyed him. Old Kane might have concealed bad luck. He did it frequently. Good luck never! He must have some good news.

"Sure we'll stake you again," said Dustin quickly. "A man can't expect to win always. You've made one of two nice hauls. Dad. Better luck next time."

"Dad Kane, desert rat, luckless prospector till now, gray and very wae Ulysses in Frontier lore, was taken in. He thought they meant it. These were partners worth having! How he had misjudged them! His eyes bored into Dustin's."

"I been seven days gittin' back," he said. "I was up in the Bent Wood hills. ..."

Dustin's eyes contracted a little, possibly from the glare.

"We're partners in all my prospectin'," said Kane sharply. "But by God! I'm not sharin' in what I seen your men doin' up there."

"What in hell do you mean, you damned old ..." began Dustin. But Spike Goddard waved him into silence.

"Wait a bit ..." Spike's eyes narrowed and his voice softened. "Go on Kane. What do you mean?"

"Mean? You know damned well what I mean. I ain't no cattle man but I know what it means when I find two Broken Spur men changin' brands on Hour-glass cattle. Usin' runnin'-irons on cattle on a fenced range at that. After that they cut the fences an' piled tumble-weed along the wire to look like an old break an' ..."

"You're crazy, man! ... I tell you ..."

"I ain't aimin' to start no trouble. Least of all I don't want to have trouble with the Hour-glass people. I got me a good reason, too. You and me are partners in prospectin' but I tell you plain that if your men ain't callin' off old man Joe Carr's cattle, I'll not only split with you ... I'll go off on 'em. ..."

"I tell you, you old fool, you're wrong," began Dustin. Then Kane exploded.

"I tell you I seen 'em," he said. "I wasn't no small party just lookin' at 'em. I saw 'em like they'd got a right to do. I seen Gray an' Epps and Corse. They had a wagon in the holler an' they had a fire goin' an' a nigger heatin' the irons. They got no sense no fool. They might know that usin' grease-wood for the fire'd be like shoutin' out what they was doin'." On legitimate business they'd have had dry wood in the cooney under the wagon. You call off your dogs till I git done with my business with the Hour-glass. If you don't, you'll be sorry. I ain't got to be mixed up in no cattle war at my time o' life."

A breathless silence held both partners. For just a fraction of a second Spike Goddard's eyes held his partner's gaze. Then he winked. Dustin at once took the cue. He was mentally quicker than Spike.

"Damn those fools," he said quickly. "If they've been up to any game like that, we'll sure fire 'em. I gave 'em the wagon and a few days off to hunt in the hills. God knows we don't need Hour-glass cattle."

"You don't need 'em now," said Kane curtly. "For more'n three years I've heard sense say that if the Broken Spur brand on most hides was cut down it'd strip to a Hour-glass. They change awful easy. You all don't need to do that from now on I tell you. Look here. ..."

His outflung hand threw a skin bag to the table where it hit the board with a dull metallic clink.

Rheumatism

Is caused by failure of kidneys to remove acid poisons from the blood. Gin Pills relieve by neutralizing this acid and restoring the kidneys to normal action—50¢ a box at all drugstores.

Dustin pounced on it like a cat on a mouse and fairly matched it open with teeth and fingers as Kane talked. "I'll need a couple of more to help me for a few days but I'm thinkin' that when word gets out of what I've found, there'll sure be a stampede like the Tonopah days. In the meantime I need powder an' fuses an' dynamite an' drills. Mine are all wore down to the roots so to speak. I need a new pick and some beddin' too. Them damned asses o' mine eat up most of my beddin'. I'll need two quarts of mercury, too, an' a new chummy bag an' two hundred o' b. con an' flour an' sugar an' coffee. ..."

He ramblod on but neither man paid any heed. Dustin laid an old newspaper on the table and emptied the contents of the bag on it and Goddard, who leaned over Dustin's shoulder, started back with a quick oath. Dustin, too, took fire at what he saw.

"Good God!" he said sharply. It was not an oath though Dustin was prone to use them. It was a combination of oath and disbelief and surprise.

"Where on earth did you find this, Dad?" he asked sharply. "I've seen gold from Alaska to Arizona but never anything like this. Where on earth'd did you find it?"

"Like it?" Kane giggled the senile laugh of old age. "I didn't find it on earth at all. I found it under the earth and I dug like a damned fool of a prairie dog to get it. I figgured that bag'd make you both set up. This is what I git fer keepin' on tryin' after you all figgered I was an other damned old desert rat gone crazy."

He thrust a claw-like hand deep into the little heap of sand and fragments and turned it over lovingly. Little yellow nuggets lay on top nesting in rich promise on lighter gravel. One great piece of white quartz was there and streaked with gold as red as fire and one chunk, almost as big as a man's closed fist, seemed made of solid metal.

"Looks like I've found the Mother Lode," cackled Kane. "What say?"

A servant, with this clause, Whom sweeps a room, as for Thy laws, Makes that and the action fine. —G. Herbert.

Surely the truth must be that whatever in our daily life is lawful and right for us to be engaged in, is in itself a part of our obedience to God, a part that is of our very religion. Whenever we hear people complaining of obstruction hindrances put by the duties of life in the way of devoting themselves to God, we may be sure they are under some false view or other. They do not look on their daily work as the task God has set them, and as obedience due to Him. We may go farther and say not only that the duties of life, be they never so toilsome and distracting, are no obstruction to a life of any degree of inward holiness, but that they are even direct means, when rightly viewed, to promote our sanctification. —H. E. Manning.

The black silk handkerchief, or scarf, for many generations a distinguishing feature of the British sailors' uniform, is to be oblong instead of square, state admiralty fleet orders.

Since the latter part of the eighteenth century, the scarf, always 36 inches square, has been tied with a knot to meet the point of the sailor's collar. The new size will be 36 inches by 38½ inches.

A naval officer said that, after a little wear, the square handkerchief when formed into a tie or scarf, is not long enough to make a neat knot. Issues of the new pattern will begin at once.

Relieves Pain in Minutes

BAD HEADACHES, NEURITIS AND RHEUMATIC PAINS EASED ALMOST AT ONCE

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Aspirin eases even a bad headache or neuritis often in a few minutes!

An Aspirin tablet begins "taking hold" of your pain, practically as soon as you swallow it. And Aspirin is safe. For Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Why Aspirin Works So Fast
Drop an Aspirin tablet in a glass of water. Note that before it touches the bottom, it is dissolving.

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH
An Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve and go to work.

What happens in these pictures appears in your stomach! Aspirin tablets start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

Keep "Leftovers" Fresh and Tasty
You know how deliciously fresh waxed paper keeps sandwiches. Para-San Heavy Waxed Paper will do the same for cut meats, cake and other foods that remain at the end of the meal.

Para-San enables you to serve these left-overs again, knowing that they still possess their appetizing flavour and freshness.

Para-San comes in a handy roll. Just tear off what you need against the sharp edge of the box. For less exciting uses "Centre-Pull" Waxed Paper in sheets is very popular.

Your druggist, grocer or stationer has them both.

Mr. William Clark, High Commissioner, Returns To England
Sir William Clark, high commissioner for the United Kingdom at Ottawa for many years, returned to England, referring in glowing terms to his experiences in Canada.

Sir William is taking the British high commissionership in the Union of South Africa after six years in Canada. He declared that all his work there had been "immensely helped by the kindness and generosity" of the prime ministers during his term of office. W. L. Mackenzie King and Prime Minister R. B. Bennett.

a few days at Crawford Bay, B. C.

Mr and Mrs. R. G. Oliver, of Tatamagouche, Nova Scotia, parents of Mr. Wm Oliver, of Crystal Dairies, are visiting their son and
Mrs. Oliver, at Blairmore.

Mrs. J. R. Morgan and two children of Pincher Creek are visiting for two weeks at the home of Mrs Morgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs W. H. Haysom.

Joe Rayman, 51 years, injured on Saturday morning by sliding down a steel chute in McGillivray mine, was badly bruised, necessitating removal to hospital. He was reported yesterday as progressing towards recovery.

Mr and Mrs. O. E. S. Whiteside and daughter Adele returned the latter part of this week from a visit to Trail and other points, Mr.
Whiteside making a business trip to the C. M. & S. Co. Ltd., Trail, to which company the International is shipping most of its output of coke.

Recently a tourist dropped into Frank Graham's for a haircut and shave. With his usual cheery air, Frank talked to him while he worked, telling him a few interesting things of the district, while the man sat silently under the shears.
When he paid Frank he remarked
he was stone deaf.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Morrison and daughter Ruth returned Saturday from three weeks motor tour as far as San Francisco, and were favored with fine weather conditions making a very pleasant holiday.
Many interesting places were visited during their tour, and the return

In a letter to his home here,
Harold Reid, at present with Two Bros. mining company in northern British Columbia, stated he will remain there during the winter, in company with five others who are being kept there by the company E. L. Dodge, formerly road engineer in this district, is expected to come out for the winter. His family is at present in Fernie.

There are parasites in business who live off the activities of more progressive merchants and business

United Church Concert

An enjoyable concert was held in the United church on Monday evening. Mr Wm. Lees acted as chairman, and called on artists from all the Pass towns to render selections.
The opening part consisted in community singing which was heartily entered into, especially by the men from the Airport camp, who were the guests of the church. Mr Haysom in a suitable speech thanked all who had taken part for providing such an excellent evening's entertainment. Mr. Taylor also spoke and called on Rev R Upton of Bellevue for a few words which were very much appreciated.

The ladies of the managing board
then served delicious refreshments and all went away voting the evening a splendid success. The programme was as follows:

Community singing, chairman's remarks, violin selections by Dennis McClafferty and George Kerr, vocal solos by Mrs. R Upton and Miss Winona Taylor, recitation by Mrs
Robert Holman, pianoforte solo by Thomas Beynon, Community singing, God save the King.
